

MONTH-DECEMBER
THEME-GOOD HABITS
GOOD HABITS

There was a very nice boy who always greet "Good Morning" to his teachers and the school guard uncle every time he met them. Three years passes but he still wished everyone including the guard every day.

One day, the boy wished good morning to the guard and went inside the school, the entire day passed by and he still not exited the school. Soon the buses dispersed. When the boy was nowhere to be seen, the guard became worried and told his superiors that a boy was missing and he was not able to find him.

Every class room was checked.

Upon opening one of the sport rooms, the boy was found inside. The boy was locked in as a prank by one of his seniors.

The boy said thank you to the guard and the guard said that the only reason why he remembered the boy was because he was the only one in the school that wished him Good Morning every single day without fail.

Moral: And thus the boy was saved because of his good habits.
